

The Gillian Rolton Youth Development Award

Applications close - Friday 6th December 2024

Eventing riders aged up to 21 years (as of 31st December 2024)

This award is given in memory of Gillian Rolton, a double gold medal winning Olympian, who was such a great ambassador for our sport, and a leading figure in the development of the 5* Adelaide Equestrian Festival.

The aim of the Youth Development Award is to identify committed, eager and motivated young riders in the sport of eventing, and support the development of communication skills, teamwork, resilience and coachability.

The award weekend will take place on 1st/2nd February at Hallmark Farm where participants will receive coaching in all three phases. Riders must attend for the two full days. Family members are welcome as spectators.

The award is aimed at athletes aged up to and including 21 years (as of 31st December 2024). The winner will receive $500, one free entry into each South Australian National Horse Trials in 2025, and more.

One application per rider. All applications will be considered, and ten riders and three reserves will be notified promptly of their selection to attend the clinic. The winner will be selected over the weekend.
